N.S.S.C. DANCE AND FROLIC NEXT TUESDAY

The North Saanich Social Club will celebrate the Festival of St. George with a dance and frolic in the club hall next Tuesday, the 24th, commencing at 9 p.m.

Cecil Reginald Heaton and his merry-makers are engaged for the occasion, which is assurance in itself of one must admit that "Paddy" Heaton,

"When You and I Were Young, Maggy"

a ripping good time for every one, as he is familiarly known to us, renders those old folk songs in an inimicable way all his own.

As this will be the last dance of the season the committee is making every effort to surpass all the club's previous functions if that is possible. The hickory spring floor is being given a special work over and all members and guests can be assured of an evening of enjoyment that will be a fitting climax to a highly successful season.

CYCLE RACES NOW ON DECK

The Harris handicap bicycle race will be held some time in the month of May.

The Harris & Smith Cycle Shop, Broad Street, Victoria, are awarding a gold medal for first prize and a bronze medal for second. The riders will be handicapped, both boys and girls competing in the one big event. The first, second and third fastest times will count three, two and one points respectively towards the Spencer Challenge Cups for the champion boy and girl athletes. All children under 16, of club members in good standing, are eligible to compete in this race. Entries to be given to John Lawson or Catherine Clark. The race will be run under the supervision of the B.C. Police and it is very encouraging to see some of the boys and girls already getting down to a course of training.

STRAWBERRY SOCIAL, YUM!

The regular monthly meeting of the Ladies' Aid of the United Church was held last Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Hollands, Third Street, with a good attendance. Owing to the absence of the president, the vice-president, Mrs. Ellis, was in the chair.

A report was brought before the meeting from the church board stating that owing to a faulty drain the new addition to be built to Wesley Hall would have to be postponed until the drain was repaired.

Discussion took place in regard to a strawberry social to be held some time in July.

Owing to the secretary, Mrs. J. T. Taylor, having removed from Sidney, Mrs. A. Critchley was appointed secretary for the balance of the year.

The sum of $20 was voted for a new stove for Wesley Hall.

Mrs. Banks of Vancouver was a visitor at the meeting.

Horticultural Meeting Postponed Till May 2

The special open air meeting of the North Saanich Horticultural Society which was to have been held at the Dominion Experimental Station on April 23rd has been postponed until Wednesday, May 2nd. Light refreshments will be served. It is hoped that all members and their friends will avail themselves of this opportunity of visiting the farm as the tulips and shrubs will then be at their best.

Any person having any plant, flower, or shrub, which they think might be of use in the district exhibit for the Vancouver Island Spring Flower Show are asked to please communicate with the secretary, Mrs. E. L. Hammond, phone 35M.

League of Nations Society In Canada

Mr. A. Williamson has on hand a number of application forms and will be glad to hear from anyone wishing to become identified with this society.

The fee for membership is one dollar per annum, which also entitles the member to copies of their monthly bulletin, so that all members are kept advised of what is being done.

Everyone is familiar with this splendid work which has for its object the abolition of war; and it deserves the hearty support of all.

Briefly the objects of the society are:

1. To promote international peace.
2. To furnish information about the League of Nations, its principles, its organization and its work.
3. To study international problems and Canada's relation thereto as a member of the British Commonwealth and of the League of Nations.
4. To foster mutual understanding, goodwill and the habit of co-operation between the people of Canada and other countries in accordance with the spirit of the League of Nations.
5. To promote the establishment of provincial and local associations, clubs, or other bodies having like objects and to co-operate with any existing organization for such purposes.

Such a program of entertainment lasting from two to two and a half hours should have a crowded house; in itself it is worth double the price of admission, besides being for such a worthy cause.

The Board of Trade are seeking to raise funds to return Mr. and Mrs. Bary to their native land in Belgium. Victims of the German invasion, suffering heavy loss and inconveniences of the war, this couple no longer in the prime of life came out to B.C. Finding employment at the Sidney Mills Mr. Bary received serious and permanent injuries unfitting him for further hard work. The Workmen's Compensation Board have granted a monthly pension of approximately $15. In order to enable them to settle in their homeland and establish in some little business there the Board of Trade has secured the commutation of this into a capital sum of approximately $1400 and are aiming to keep this sum intact and raise the necessary funds for their travelling. The entire proceeds of the concert are for this purpose.

alls will be the popular mode of attire. Schofield's three-piece orchestra which has proved so popular during the past season will again be in evidence, tombola prizes suitable to the event will be given away, refreshments will be served, and a good time is assured all who attend.

This popular event is being much looked forward to by the dancing set and has been much discussed since the announcement of the holding of the "Hick Dance" was given out.

Through Canada's Inland Ocean

1. The Great Lake Steamer S.S. Assiniboia, of the C.P. Fleet which carries its passengers through the land of charm. 2. Serving a little berril during the trip. 3. The passengers' companions and well-wishers of a bon-voyage.

The Great Lakes for a summer holiday have no equal. Contrary to the generally prevailing opinion that the automobile and touring and camping are a greater attraction, these large bodies of fresh water, really inland seas, are holding their own, indeed, by those who know it is said that they are doing more.

From Port McNicoll to the Head of the Lakes, is practically an ocean voyage. The great white steamers of the Canadian Pacific Railway are operated the same as the huge ocean liners. At Port McNicoll the visitor was a man made harbor, surrounded by a village which has been developed from the original village in the last twenty years. About an hour and a half after leaving port, a huge sounds the dining call, and going below the traveller finds the dining-room spacious and comfortable which greatly whets the already huge appetite.

After dinner a promenade of the broad white decks, as motionless as the city streets, but with what a difference! The fresh clean breeze stiffens, the sun strikes the horizon and sinks in blazing splendour and leaving behind a sense of peace and well-being. Host upon host appear over the stern, crying the poignant call of the hungry gull. So still they are as to appear motionless, a floating bit of white feather; but a chance opening of the cooks' galley port hole brings them swooping down, screaming with the wildness of the blizzard, with a strength and speed that is amazing.

Land slowly disappears, and the island are lost in the soft enfolding darkness. Stars come out, and a few stars are seen the lake with an otherland luster. All in quiet—a friendly intimate quiet—a broken here and there by a merry laugh, a passing footstep, the throb of the great engine and the spark on the wireless up above. A little later we pass the protruding Bruce peninsula, then the Manitoulin Island, the home of the Great Spirit. In the distance can be seen the blinking light of the mariner's guides, the light-houses at Cabot's Head, Lonely Island, the Flower Pots and in the far distance at the entrance to Lake Huron.

These steamships, the "Keewauqua," "Manitoba" and "Assiniboia" of the Canadian Pacific service are fast and in every way, and ply these inland waters from May 21st to September 28th. The journey occupies the better part of three days, with every wave bringing a further charm and amazement at the unfolding beauty of the trip.

BARY BENEFIT CONCERT NEXT TUESDAY EVE.

Arrangements are now complete for the great benefit concert to be given under the auspices of the relief committee of the Board of Trade on Tuesday next in the Sidney Auditorium at 8 p.m.

One of the finest programs of entertainment ever presented in Sidney has been provided for the occasion. The committee have been fortunate in securing the services of Miss Gwendoline Townsend, gold medal contralto at the recent Musical Festival; Mrs. Anderson, soprano of Metropolitan Choir, and are still negotiating for the help of the gold medal tenor. These artists will give groups of songs individually and in combination.

The Victoria School of Expression, by the kindness of the principal, Mrs. Wilfred Ord, is providing a series of items of elocution, musical and dramatic art by a number of very talented pupils, which would constitute a good program in itself.

Miss Violet Kovkes of the School of Dancing is sending out a party of pupils to give a number of ballet and character dances, such as have given great delight and enjoyment to local audiences on previous appearances.

Such a program of entertainment lasting from two to two and a half hours should have a crowded house; in itself it is worth double the price of admission, besides being for such a worthy cause.

The Board of Trade are seeking to raise funds to return Mr. and Mrs. Bary to their native land in Belgium. EVERYBODY BENEFITS

The proposition of "trading at home" has been too often construed for the help of the merchant alone. There is no greater economic fallacy. The merchant may gain the first or primary benefit; the result may show up first in his own cash register; but by no means is the "business man" the sole heir of local patronage. We are all "business" people. It is a broad term, and includes those who toil or add anything to the total of human welfare.

The merchant, the banker, the farmer, the house wife, the teacher, the preacher, the lawyer, the doctor, the laborer, the contractor, in short—the "butcher, the baker, the candlestick maker" are all in the same class when it comes to making Sidney what it should be. Set any one of these trades or professions going and all the rest are benefitted all the way up or down the line. If one prospers, the others he deals with or pays wages to are helped accordingly. It means more savings, more bank deposits and more business.

We are living in an age of keen competition with the big cities. That the large city has its advantages and accommodations, all will admit. But it has its disadvantages. If life is to survive in its fulness, and richness and culture in the suburban and rural sections, and in the smaller cities and towns of this country, the economic side of the question must be given first consideration. Without economic prosperity all would have to move out.

The business of the people of Sidney is to do business here, if it can be done with reason and propriety. And we believe it can. Every dollar spent in Sidney makes it that much easier for the other fellow to spend his money here, and so on, like any other cumulative dividend.

Investing in your home town is like getting compound interest, with the privilege of cashing in on the principal. It may not be possible to supply every need at home but a good policy is to try "home" first.

THRIFT DEFINED

Thrift should not be confused with miserliness. Thrift is merely the valuable quality of being able to spend money wisely and well, not foolishly. Wise investments make for sound business, and greater business. Wise spending makes for better products in all lines, and increased products. The miser is one who dislikes spending money no matter how worthily. He is one of the greatest enemies of progress.

The amount of money that is hidden in a sock under the floorboard, or buried in the back yard is growing less. Instead, it is deposited in banks and circulating in order to produce many times its face value.

A CAUSE OF MANY ACCIDENTS

Automobile accidents have become one of the greatest perils in modern life, and the best thought of the community must go into the question of how they can be prevented.

Pedestrians and children are the worst sufferers. Many of these accidents occur at street intersections, where cars come so quickly that people do not have time to get ready for them. The pedestrian looks one way and then in the opposite direction, and starts across some much travelled street. Then, it will frequently happen that some car has turned into that street from one that intersects it, so that its approach was not seen.

If the car making the turn is coming fast, so that the driver lacks perfect control of it, he is likely to run down the pedestrian in his pathway.

Drivers, who are making the turns, ought to do so very cautiously, so that they can see what they are getting into in the streets they are entering. It is too much to expect pedestrians all at once to look first to the right and then to the left, and then to look behind them for a car coming around the corner, also to the corner diagonally opposite to see if anything is coming from that direction. The human neck is not sufficiently rubbery, nor is the human eye quick enough, to observe the situation in all four directions simultaneously.

When one thus has to look in four directions before he can cross a street safely, a car may show up in the first direction, by the time the pedestrian has looked around elsewhere.

Then when you consider that many aged and infirm people are slow and faltering in their steps, and the vision of many is defective, also children are commonly heedless, the motorist should have some regard for the handicaps under which people labor.

KEEPING TRADE AT HOME

The success of a town as a business and trading centre depends largely on whether its people can be persuaded and induced to do their buying at home. If a large part of the money of the community goes elsewhere to buy the things that the community needs, then there is a steady current of loss working against the business of that community.

If you attempt to water your garden with a lawn hose, and your hose has a big hole in it, the stream reaching your garden will be very feeble. It will take a long time to give your seeds a good soaking.

It is the same in applying the aid of energy and enterprise to town development. If a lot of people are counteracting the effort of the community workers, by spending their money out of town, a leak is causing loss there that will cost the town heavily.

A neighborhood of people who make it their practice to go and send elsewhere to buy goods, may accomplish as much to pull down the business development of a community, as civic workers can do in a month to promote growth and development.

Towns have to keep their own resources in order to get ahead. One of their principal resources is the buying power of their own people. If that buying power is used to support stores located somewhere else, it subtracts from the resources of the home town, and business located elsewhere gets the benefit of the stimulation.

A GOOD TRADING CENTRE

When a town develops a group of up-to-date and enterprising stores, it accomplishes a wonderful step toward its progress. People are better contented to live in a town where the shopping facilities are good. They consider such stores one of the leading attractions of the place, and such business houses furnish jobs to young people who are leaving school.

But in order to get such a collection of stores in any city or town, the people of that community have to make it their practice to do their buying at home. If any large share of this trade goes elsewhere, the town will never develop the business it might have, and the progress will drag.

PAINTING UP
The works committee have been very busy putting finishing touches to the exterior of the club house preparatory to the painting of same. The contract on the painting has been let to one of the members of the club and very soon now we shall not recognize the old club house in her Spring-like gown of buff and brown.

NOW, YOU TELL ONE!
A driver of a Pierce-Arrow car was travelling down the East Saanich Road at about 35 miles an hour when he noticed a new Ford with the driver waving his arms and being surprised he stepped his car up to 40. Looking back he saw the Ford right up close with the driver still waving his arms. Presuming the flivver driver wanted a race he stopped on the gas and was soon doing 50 but did not leave the Ford behind and so stopped up to 60. By this time the driver of the Ford was frantically waving his arms and the driver of the Pierce-Arrow decided to stop, exclaiming "What's the big idea?"

The Ford driver replied "I just bought this new car from McKenzie at Sidney and I wanted to ask you how I could change into high gear."

Applications are received for purchase of vacant and unreserved Crown lands, not being timber land, for agricultural purposes; minimum price of first-class (arable) land is $5 per acre, and second-class (grazing) land $2.50 per acre. Further information regarding purchase or lease of Crown lands is given in Bulletin No. 10, Land Series, "Purchase and Lease of Crown Lands."

Mill, factory, or industrial sites on timber land, not exceeding 40 acres, may be purchased or leased, the conditions including payment of stumpage.

HOMESITE LEASES

LEASES
For grazing and industrial purposes areas not exceeding 640 acres may be leased by any one person or company.

GRANZING
Under the Grazing Act the Province is divided into grazing districts, and the range administered under the Grazing Commission. Free, or partially free, permits are available for settlers, campers and travellers up to ten head.

C. P. R. Adds Further Trackage

Photos show the huge area covered by the railway tracks of the Canadian Pacific Railway around the harbour of Vancouver, also the new elevators recently constructed.

Over one hundred miles of trackage will shortly have been laid by the Canadian Pacific Railway in serving the ports of the Vancouver district, is shown by the extent of the works now underway about that city.

An indication of the programme of extension of the already multi-fold trackage facilities is given in the plans being carried out at Pier B-C at the foot of Granville Street, and in the proposed new C.P.R. yard at the south end of the second Narrows Bridge, and of the allowance for further additions when necessary.

Mr. C. A. Catterell, C.P.R. General Superintendent, has issued figures demonstrating the vast extent of existent trackage facilities exclusive of main and subsidiary lines running through the yards for the passage of through and local trains, serving Vancouver and her sister ports.

On the north shore to the south end of the second Narrows Bridge, the C.P.R. has more than 9 miles of trackage. From the south end of the second Narrows Bridge to Coal Harbour are another 27 miles. The False Creek Yard comprises 27 miles, and the south False Creek Yard has between three and four miles. In the Coquitlam Terminal Yards, serving both Vancouver and New Westminster, there are 22 miles of trackage, with yard capacity for double that mileage should it become necessary. Another four miles of yard rails lie west of the Fraser River Bridge.

This trackage, so far as the C.P.R. is concerned, is not only taking care of a steady and normal growth in trade through the great port, but also handling an abnormal expansion in westward grain movement. Additions have been made and others will be necessary to care for this growing westbound traffic which reached a peak in the crop season of 1927-28. The Canadian Pacific's first westward wheat shipments were made in 1922, attained more than 50,000,000 bushels in 1923-24, and reached a record this spring of 53,000,000 bushels shipped through the port before the end of February.
